College Prexies Make Proposal

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 15—The presidents of 10 state colleges today adopted a proposal raising entrance requirements statewide, but reserved the right of individual schools to deviate from the requirements through special student tests.

Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, said there was a possibility the special tests are illegal. He said he would refer the proposal to the state attorney general before passing it on to the state board of education which must make the final decision. The legality hinged on whether entrance requirements must be the same at all state colleges.

The college presidents also reviewed their proposed 1955-56 budget which called for expenditure of $29,965,522, an increase of $10,238,000 over the year which ended in June and $7,716,602 more than the fiscal year which ends June, 1955.

The entrance requirement problem was stimulated by a recent attorney general opinion that no "qualified" student may be turned down if he applies.

San Jose State, which was given money for 6000 students, will open its doors to approximately 8000 students Jan. 3, the same day the Legislature convenes and the State Board of Education holds its next meeting.

The college presidents adopted a three-pronged standard for admission of students. The applicant must:

1. Have a "B" average in 8 one-year courses during the last three years of high school, not counting gymnasium and military science. Present regulations require "A" or "B grades" (not the same as "B" average) in 5 one-year courses.

2. Be in the 35 percentile or above on a standard college aptitude test.

Current regulation requires only 20th percentile.

3. Pass special aptitude tests designed to predict the student's eventual success in his chosen field. "Each college shall determine and or devise its own tests and satisfactory scores..." this requirement said. It was this section that Simpson thought would be held invalid.

"I doubt very much that you can sustain a pattern of admission that is different at each institution," he said.

Teresa Wins Examiner Bag

Quarterback Tony Teresa became the second Spartan griddler to win the San Francisco Examiner Wiley Smith Bag award for his sensational play in directing SJS to its 19-14 victory over Stanford.

Halfback Stan Beasley annexed the leather carry bag for his performance in the Arizona State contest last month.

Teresa, a 178-pound junior, carried the ball six times for 46 yards and a 7.5 average. He had a 25 yard jaunt called back because of a penalty. He connected on four of nine passes for 78 yards.

The Examiner award is made weekly to the outstanding college player in Northern California.

Judges rated Teresa's play in the Stanford game over the record breaking running efforts of Jerry Drew, University of California halfback. Drew scampered 283 yards against Oregon State Saturday to eclipse Johnny Olszewski's school mark.

A Phi O Hit by Car Brings No Charge

No charges will be brought against the Santa Clara University freshman who was the driver of a car that assertedly struck Leon V. Everson at the SJ bonfire site Friday afternoon, Everson said yesterday.

According to Everson, an A Phi O pledge guarding the fire, he was hit and lifted over the right front fender of the late model two-tone blue automobile when the car spun to leave the bonfire after 15 to 20 Santa Clara students had failed to light the pile of railroad railroad ties.

"I felt the rear wheels go by, but luckily I was only bruised on my left ribs, hip and leg," Everson relates.

Drink Worries U. of Oregon

The University of Oregon student council may bear down on drinking at football games as a direct result of drinking and rowdiness at the SJS-Oregon game, the Oregon Daily Emerald reported yesterday.

The Emerald said that during the game "a beer bottle was thrown at members of the band and more than 200 beer and liquor bottles were found under the stands after the game."

The council suggested that the athletic department supervise the student section at games and "enforce conduct standards."

Toward Better Understanding

Student councils of American colleges and Universities have an opportunity to help further the cause of international understanding and bring a knowledge of U. S. Collegiate life to the millions of Russian university students.

Fifteen Russian college newspaper editors are requesting visas to visit this country. In order to get the visas they ask for, they must be accorded invitations from the student councils of several universities.

So far two eastern colleges, Swarthmore and Oberlin, have extended invitations to the 15 editors, headed by a Mr. Uvarov, editor of the Moscow University paper.

We would like to see the SJS student council join these two colleges in inviting the editors to visit our campus.

Benefits from such an offer, if accepted, are obvious. It would give the Russian editors a look at American collegiate life in a public supported institution. It also would give SJS students an opportunity to meet and talk to persons with entirely different cultures and viewpoints.

We think it's worth a try.

Thrust and Parry

Ducklings?

Dear Thrust and Parry:

In regard to Queen Barbara Joan Daltons reply that she did not receive similar awards in high school because she "wore glasses then." We feel this is a somewhat dated remark since it infers that all girls who wear glasses are obviously ugly.

Having seen some of the attractive new styles in eye wear, we would like to refer Miss Dalton to a good optometrist for some new frames, since her seemingly detract rather than add to her beauty.

We have noticed that Queen Dalton wears glasses while in class, does she not consider herself beautiful then? As long-time wearers of glasses we do not feel that we have been overly hindered by this fact.

We may never be elected Homecoming Queens, but we dislike being called "ugly."

No Cooperation

Dear Thrust and Parry:

It seems a shame that there isn't enough cooperation between the Athletic department and the Spartan Daily for our campus paper to get the news coming out of the department before all the town papers do.

It's rather discouraging to pick up not only local, but San Francisco papers and see impressive articles concerning games, players and SJS sports plans spread across their pages and barely, if at all, mentioned in the Spartan Daily.

We can scarcely believe that the entire fault lies with the staff members. What's the answer P.E. Department?

Wonderingly,

Record Crowd Attends Alum Dinner-Dance

More than 400 persons attended the first dinner-dance reunion of Spartan alumni at Rickey's Studio Club in Palo Alto Saturday night, according to Peggy Major of the Alumni office.

"The reunion was a huge success," said Miss Major. "Alumni from all over the state attended, and graduates from the classes of 1919 through 1954 were there. I would especially like to thank the members of the Rally committee who helped with the mailing of announcements for the reunion. Their assistance was greatly responsible for the wonderful attendance we had."

Chicken dinners were served to a turn-away crowd of 257 alumni and guests who later danced to the music of Gayle Smiley. Special guests at the reunion were Coach Bob Bronzan, Gene Menges, back field coach, Bill Perry, line coach, and Wade Wilson, athletic publicity director of SJS. The Alumni Homecoming reunion dinner was the first of its kind ever held and is expected to become an annual affair.

Bronzan Fears Fresno Spirit High for Raiders

Big Game on Bulldog Sked, SJS Mentor Tells Scribes

San Jose State Coach Bob Bronzan dreads the Fresno State football game here Friday night because SJS is the big game on the Bulldog schedule, he disclosed at the football writers luncheon yesterday in San Francisco.

"They are always up for this game because it is the big one on their schedule," he said. He contended, "The success of their season depends upon how they do against us."

In commenting on State's first victory over Stanford University Saturday, Bronzan said, "When two teams play each other long enough you are bound to win. It was a team victory and our best win because it marked the first time San Jose has beaten a major Coast Conference team."

Coach Bronzan remarked that Guard Tom Louderback, whose 220 pounds is also used at linebacking, is the best at his position that he has seen—bar none.

He noted that Quarterback Tony Teresa, who won the Examiners' Wiley Smith Bag Award, has played in 179 minutes out of a possible 180 in the Spartans' last three encounters.

It was also revealed that Halfback Roy Hiram had a new follower, an 8½-pound daughter, Royleen Tono Hiram, presented to him at 10:03 a.m. Sunday by his wife, Audreen.

Bronzan told sports writers that Hiram's knees were still heavily taped and that although he was sensational in the Stanford game, he wasn't at his best.

Beasley Keeps Rushing Lead

Halfbacks Stan Beasley and Roy Hiram are almost at a stand-off in the SJS rushing leadership struggle while three ends are waging a battle for pass reception honors, figures released yesterday showed.

Beasley has netted 282 yards in 42 carries for a 6.7 average while Hiram has run for 277 yards in 43 tries for a 6.4 mark.

End Charlie Hardy has caught 13 passes for 168 yards to edge Ends Merle Flattley and Clarence Wessman, both with 12 receptions. Flattley's have been good for 181 yards and two TD's and Wessman's have gone for 217 yards and one touchdown.

QB Benny Pierce retained his aerial supremacy with 35 completions in 68 tosses for 486 yards and a 51.4 percentage. Teresa has thrown 62 passes, connected on 26 for 438 yards, four TD's and a 41.9 percentage.

Foggy Crystal Ball Fools Forecasters

Disaster struck Spartan Daily pigskin pickers in last weekend's forecasting as two winners were the best total predicted.

Derby leader Gil Chesterton, Athletic Director Bill Hubbard and Glenn Hartranft, men's P.E. head, all survived with a pair of winners. Guest Robert Guy of the Speech and Drama Department picked one correctly.

The scores of the stumblers were Marquette 19, College of Pacific, 13; University of Southern California 41, Washington 0; Michigan 33, Michigan State 7; Minnesota 22, Iowa 20, Southern Methodist 21, Arkansas 14.

Gil's Galley

By GIL CHESTERTON

A precedent was established when Idaho defeated its arch rival, Washington State, last October, that in this galley's opinion, should be observed locally.

The Idaho situation, in a nut shell, was thus: Up in Moscow (Idaho) the previously untouchable Vandals had lost five contests on successive Saturdays and had captured only one game in nine last season. They had not beaten Washington State for 28 years.

When Idaho triumphed over WSC 10-0 in their traditional battle the Vandal students, faculty and friends were so joyful over the turn of events that the following Monday was proclaimed a holiday. My point is that since Idaho, a State supported institution of higher learning, received such a holiday—why not SJS for beating Stanford?

Idaho had not defeated its rival since 1925 and received one day's vacation. The Spartans had never uprooted Stanford since the series had its kickoff in 1900.

Going by this criteria, an Indian victory should mean at least a two-day lay-off.

Tuesday morning Indian post-mortem: Overheard in a local establishment where SJS and Stanford students had gathered to celebrate or mourn over the game:

A few verses of "The Old Stanford Indian Ain't What He Used to Be" brought an indignant Stanford supporter over to the spot where the singing was emanating.

Said the indignant one: "You don't have to rub it in do ya? We just weren't up for the game."

"You weren't up for many games this year, were you?" was the reply.
